2025
McLAREN VALE

THE YEAR THAT: 'Ascend', our luxury three region chopper experience began

HISTORY

With 100 ha of premium grapevines on the Taranga property, the Oliver family has over 50 blocks representing different grape varieties, clones, soil types & vine ages.

WINE & VINTAGE

The 2025 harvest started very early, with a dry and consistently warm growing season. In these conditions Grenache comes to the fore, revelling in the drier ripening conditions. Another excellent year for Grenache from McLaren Vale, which seems to be in a purple patch at the moment - darling of the consumer, winemaker and viticulturists!

AROMA

River stone, juniper, rose florals, red forest berries and earthy spice.

PALATE

The palate delivers everything one hopes from the nose. Bright fruit with sour cherry and purple fruited crunch, zippy lifted acid, fine light-weight tannins, a scattering of dried florals, black pepper and clove spice and a mineral-laden finish.

THE YEAR THAT...

ASCEND - A Wine Odyssey. Experience a trilogy of luxury as you journey through three world-class wine regions, all in the span of a single day. ## WHAT THE WRITERS HAVE TO SAY [2024 VINTAGE]

"Made in the first year in the new winery, this came off three estate blocks, with an average age of 30 years; 10% whole bunch; matured half in steel, with the rest a 4500L cask, older puncheons and a concrete egg. This sits neatly in the grenache zeitgeist, moderately pale in hue, fragrant, fruitful but not overt, with red-fruited appeal, a dusty hint of earth, wafting florals, some spice, a textural, fruitful cushioning and a cleansing but not brisk finish. It's lovely, and fine value."
